CHICAGO YOUTHS ARE INDICTED ON TWO COUNTS

Leopold and Loeb Are Ordered Held Without Bail.

ANOTHER CHARGE

Expected to Be Named for Conspiracy
Besides Indictments For Kidnaping and Murder.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, June 6.—Two indictments charging Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, sons of millionaires, with the kidnaping for ransom and the murder of Robert Franks were returned by the grand jury today. Both youths are ordered held without bail.

Leopold and Loeb are expected to be named in a third indictment charging conspiracy to murder but are not expected to go to trial on the third indictment which is being sought merely to get additional testimony before the grand jurors. Arraignment probably will be Wednesday, according to the latest plans but the definite date has not been determined.

While the grand jury was hearing evidence, the only other important event of the day in connection with the case came with the filing of a suit for $100,000 damages against Leopold and Loeb by attorneys for Louise Hohlhey. According to her counsel, the woman said the youths attacked her when she went automobile riding with them. Assistant State's Attorney said they knew of the charges but were little concerned with them in view of the much graver charges with which they expected the boys to be faced.

Investigation of possible connection of the youths with the slaying of Freeman Louis Tracy, a university student, and the mutilation of Charles Ream, a taxi driver last fall, was virtually at a standstill, all efforts of the authorities being bent to the task of hurrying the last testimony to the grand jury.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—In a final attempt to secure farm relief legislation this session, the farm bloc in both the Senate and the House today pledged support to the Bursum bill authorizing the secretary of agriculture to pay an export bounty of thirty-five cents a bushel on wheat and wheat products. Supporters said it was intended only as temporary legislation to relieve the wheat growers who face bankruptcy.

Whittle Springs To Be Sold to Highest Bidder

KNOXVILLE, June 5.—Sale of the Whittle Springs hotel property in 90 days to the highest bidder was ordered Tuesday by Chancellor Charles Hays Brown.

E. R. Keller, receiver, was instructed by the court to continue the operation of the hotel with as little expense as possible. Receiver Keller had asked that the property be sold, after it had been advertised for sale for 30 days, but this was denied by the court unless the creditors of the hotel ask that it be allowed.

The bid submitted by H. D. Lucas of $145,000 was withdrawn by Mr. Lucas after the court had ordered that the property be advertised for sale 90 days before it was sold to the highest bidder. Mr. Lucas stated his reason for withdrawing the bid that he must have the property early in July in order to make any money from it as a summer resort.

Dr. Douglas In Charge Pisgah Homecoming

LEXINGTON, June 6.—Addresses memorializing the old Pisgah Academy and its relation to Transylvania College were the principal part of the homecoming services at Pisgah churchyard in Woodford county yesterday. The services, which started at 11 o'clock and continued until 4 o'clock, were presided over by the Rev. Dr. Rutherford Douglas of Middlesboro.

At noon a luncheon was served on the grounds in the shade of the old trees of Pisgah. A tent to house the speakers and the audience has been erected on the grounds.

The exercises were planned for this month because it is the time of the Kentucky homecoming and many persons from out of the state who came to Kentucky for the June homecoming would probably be able to attend. The academy at Pisgah was formerly one of the foremost schools in the Blue Grass and had among its faculty and students many whose names are new familiar to all Kentuckians. The old academy building is still standing.

WOMAN'S CLUBS HEAR PLATFORM FOR CHILDREN

Educational Chairman
Has Framed Policy
For Schools.

PRESENTS TODAY

Asks Federation to Adopt Program
Leading Up to Slogan, "No
Illiteracy In 1936."

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—A platform on behalf of American school children will be submitted to the General Federation of Women's clubs at the session of its biennial convention here June 6. Education Day, by Mrs. John D. Sherman of Estes Park, Colo., chairman of the education committee and a candidate for president of the federation.

These are the salient points of the policy which the federation will be asked to adopt:

That English be made the basic language of instruction in all schools of America, both public and private.

That physical education be promoted in all schools.

That children between 7 and 11 be compelled to attend school.

That every public school be operated at least 21 weeks of every school year.

That the federation urge the passage of the Sterling-Itead education bill.

Mrs. Sherman announced that the federation's department of education had adopted the slogan, "No Illiteracy in 1936."

Other innovations which Mrs. Sherman will urge include the establishment of a free public lending library in every county in every state where there is not such a library, "to the end that 50,000,000 people of the United States who now have no library facilities what ever may be supplied with books." She also will suggest that there should be training in home economics in every school for girls between 11 and 18 years of age "who soon will determine the standards of home life in the land."

Mrs. Sherman will point out that the policy of the department of education has been "that natural resources be put to the best possible use without waste or abuse."

Mrs. Sherman said she would sound this challenge to the federation: "As a nation of American people are, in most cases, conservative illiterates. We have not appreciated our vast wealth of natural resources, nor have we even gained an intelligent understanding of them. What we have done is to permit them to be exploited and handed with an utter disregard for their vital worth to the American people."

The announcement of awards made at the end of the exercises showed that John Coolidge had won fourth prize in theme writing in the English department.

The gold cross awarded to the student exercising the best influence in the school during the year was won by Jack McKay French, of Elmira, N. Y., captain of the football and baseball teams. The two students given honorable mention were Stewart Scott, Scranton, Pa., and John Coolidge, who was manager of the track team during the past year.

G. O. P. PROGRAM IS ROUNDED OUT

Program and Vice-president Only
Things Not Yet
Settled.

By Associated Press.
CLEVELAND, June 6.—Only two major propositions remain to be settled in connection with the Republican national convention here in June, the platform and the selection of a vice-presidential candidate, according to officials in charge of Coolidge national headquarters here.

They assert that President Coolidge will be nominated for President on the first ballot, probably polling more than 1,050 of the 1,103 votes. Congressman Theodore E. Burton of Ohio will be temporary chairman, Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr. of New York, will be named as permanent chairman and William M. Butler of Massachusetts, as chairman of the national committee, in their opinion.

Chairman David Mulvane of Kansas, of the national committee on arrangements, believes the national committee will have but four contests to pass upon when making up the temporary roll call of the convention. Contests are expected from Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas and South Carolina.

A sub-committee headed by Senator George W. Pepper of Pennsylvania, will investigate the claims of the contestants and report to the national committee at a meeting here several days before the convention.

Arrangements have been completed for decorating the city. Flags, bunting and pictures of the President and other Republican leaders of the past and present will adorn Superior Avenue from West 9th street to East 9th street, the entire length of East 9th street, Euclid avenue from the Public Square to East 17th street and East 9th street between Superior and Prospect avenues, the entire downtown section.

PROHIBITION PARTY MAKES LAST STAND

Dwindling Interest and Death of Leaders Is Sapping Life of Organization.

By Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 6.—What may be the last national ticket nominated by the prohibition party probably will be put in the field today, faced by steadily dwindling interest and resources, death of many leaders and lack of young blood to take vacant places. Leaders of the organization were ready to let the coming campaign be the final answer to the question of prohibition having fulfilled its mission. Many christians already have evidenced that belief by remaining away from the convention. Several new planks, however, will probably be adopted for the platform today.

MIDDLESBORO'S NEED OF TOURIST CAMPS

Middlesboro people are proud of their town. They boast it to the skies in other places and doubtless induce many strangers to drive through this way. Tourists are disappointed, however, when they find no accommodations here for camping such as in many small towns and places with no particular attractions for tourists, afford

We need a large tourist camp here. We must have one if we hope to get our share of the tourist patronage and induce motorists to stop here a second time. Such a camp would be splendid advertising for the town. At times, all newspapers in Kentucky publish a list of towns which have tourist camps with a brief description of the conveniences available. Prospective tourists read these notices and plan their itinerary accordingly.

There is a certain class of tourists, and these are perhaps in the majority, who cannot afford to patronize the high priced hotels, yet who dislike to stop at hostels where charges are commensurate with their means. It is for this class, which might properly be called the masses of tourists, that camps should be provided.

Such a camp should not be a liability in any sense. They would doubtless be self-supporting as a small charge is usually made for parking and camping space and other necessities. At other places, camps are supported by large garages for a patronage that will naturally obtain for the service. We are not suggesting or outlining the plan on which it should be operated though any plan should be a success and a benefit to the city as a whole.

METHODIST BREACH EXPLAINED

In its issue of May 31 the Literary Digest carries an article entitled "Crisis, the Methodist Breach" in which the writer gives evidence of inexcusable ignorance of history, or of prejudice which should long since have been outgrown. Referring to the causes which divided the church in 1844 he says:

Eighty years ago the Methodists divided on slavery in connection with the case of Bishop James O. Andrew, who inherited slaves from his wife. At the General Conference in 1844 at Baltimore, Northern delegates supported a resolution advising Bishop Andrew to desist from the exercise of his office, so long as he retained ownership of the slaves and suffering those not avoiding a crisis had been sustained, the resolution was passed. The next day, we are told, when the Southern delegates declined to interpret the action as merely advisory the Southerners set about making plans for secession.

Who gave the Digest this information? By whom were they "told"? We cannot believe it was by any responsible leader in the M. E. Church. It could not have been by a friend of Methodism. Even a novice in Church history should know that when the General Conference of 1844 failed to agree on the questions of Church government which had been raised by the case of Bishop Andrew, a plan of peaceful separation was adopted, and under the provisions of this plan the M. E. Church South, was organized in 1845. This organization was in no sense a secession. The plan under which the action was taken provided for a legal separation and it was by mutual agreement that American Methodism was divided into two separate ecclesiastical jurisdictions. While we are thinking and talking about the Plan of Unionification let us keep our history straight, regarding the Plan of Separation - Central Methodist.

Final Repair Work On Dixie Route A About Completed

By Associated Press

FRANKFORD, June 6.—Continuation of construction work, fixing of detours, and damages done by rains are noted in the weekly detours and road condition bulletin of the department of state roads and highways, made public Friday, as follows:

It seems that the final touches to repair work south of the Madison-Rockcastle County line are about completed. Reports indicate travelers are coming over the Eastern Dixie from the South.

The road through Decatur, Kenton and Demosville is still closed while repairs are being made south of Kenton. Southbound traffic from Cincinnati should cross the river at Newport then go by way of Lexington and Grants Lick to Butler. At Butler turn to right to avoid construction south of town and go to the Hill road, then turn left and go three miles to Greenwood and on to Lexington, then go through Lexington and Paris to Lexington. Excepting a few rough places this road is in good condition to Lexington.

The Hill road south of Lexington between Independence and the Penitence county line is under construction. There are several detours and a difficult ford to cross. For safe and certain going take the Alexandria route just described.

The Dixie Highway south of Lexington is under construction. There are several detours and a difficult ford to cross. For safe and certain going take the Alexandria route just described.

Food traffic through Florence and Williams town should detour at Williams town and Dry Ridge.

From Lexington to Rockcastle County line there are two rough stretches of three miles each (See Rockcastle county).

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY—From the Madison county line to Mt. Vernon is rough, but repairs are being made. Most of the traffic going via Nicholasville, Camp Dick Robinson, Lancaster, Crab Orchard, and Mt. Vernon to Livingston, keep the main road which is in good condition excepting the new earth grade one mile north of Livingston, this at present is in fair condition and traffic is going through with but little difficulty. From Livingston to Rockcastle River the gravel surface is in good condition.

LAUREL COUNTY—The earth grade south of Rockcastle River is in good condition to present. Traffic is going through with ease in dry weather. The waterbound macadam section joining this on the south is in excellent condition.

WHITLEY COUNTY—Macadam road from Corbin to Williamsburg is in excellent condition. From Williamsburg to Jellico the graded earth road is good in dry weather, traffic going through with ease except immediately after rain. From Corbin travelers bound for Tennessee and beyond should take the Boone way.

KNOX COUNTY—Tennessee traffic should go by way of Barbourville, Pineville and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap. Grade and dirt construction in progress between Corbin and Barbourville. The road three miles south of Corbin by way of Woodbine and Indian Springs to Barbourville is now in good condition, though Barbourville to Pineville, and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap in good to excellent condition. Watch for the "Invisible Truck Road" in Pineville you will know it by the four longitudinal cuts in the surface.

Construction in proportion to his income inability to realize adequate proportion of the price paid by the consumer for the farmers' products in account of present method of marketing, and the hardship due to the high prices paid in the cities.

The sections which have suffered most in the depression are the one crop farmers. Greater diversification of crops will minimize losses in the future.

Assistance should be given the farmers in the one crop section, particularly the northwest, but in the future greater stress should be laid upon diversification of crops and greater success will result.

Chairman Says Law Will Be Enforced As Long As Major Parties Rule

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—Law will continue to be enforced "so long as the people continue to cast their votes for liquor controlled parties" and as the last two administrations have handled prohibition and "were found wanting," election of the prohibition ticket, the only one which has ever stood for law and order is necessary to the extinction of the liquor traffic," H. From Lexington to Rockcastle County line there are two rough stretches of three miles each (See Rockcastle county).

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY—From the Madison county line to Mt. Vernon is rough, but repairs are being made. Most of the traffic going via Nicholasville, Camp Dick Robinson, Lancaster, Crab Orchard, and Mt. Vernon to Livingston, keep the main road which is in good condition excepting the new earth grade one mile north of Livingston, this at present is in fair condition and traffic is going through with but little difficulty. From Livingston to Rockcastle River the gravel surface is in good condition.

LAUREL COUNTY—The earth grade south of Rockcastle River is in good condition to present. Traffic is going through with ease in dry weather. The waterbound macadam section joining this on the south is in excellent condition.

WHITLEY COUNTY—Macadam road from Corbin to Williamsburg is in excellent condition. From Williamsburg to Jellico the graded earth road is good in dry weather, traffic going through with ease except immediately after rain. From Corbin travelers bound for Tennessee and beyond should take the Boone way.

KNOX COUNTY—Tennessee traffic should go by way of Barbourville, Pineville and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap. Grade and dirt construction in progress between Corbin and Barbourville. The road three miles south of Corbin by way of Woodbine and Indian Springs to Barbourville is now in good condition, though Barbourville to Pineville, and Middlesboro to Cumberland Gap in good to excellent condition. Watch for the "Invisible Truck Road" in Pineville you will know it by the four longitudinal cuts in the surface.

Construction in proportion to his income inability to realize adequate proportion of the price paid by the consumer for the farmers' products in account of present method of marketing, and the hardship due to the high prices paid in the cities.

The sections which have suffered most in the depression are the one crop farmers. Greater diversification of crops will minimize losses in the future.

Assistance should be given the farmers in the one crop section, particularly the northwest, but in the future greater stress should be laid upon diversification of crops and greater success will result.

PROBITIONISTS ASK FOR VOTES

Chairman Says Law Will Be Enforced As Long As Major Parties Rule

By Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—Law will continue to be enforced "so long as the people continue to cast their votes for liquor controlled parties" and as the last two administrations have handled prohibition and "were found wanting," election of the prohibition ticket, the only one which has ever stood for law and order is necessary to the extinction of the liquor traffic," H. P. Farris of Clinton, Mo., told party chairman, asserted in the keynote address at the national prohibition convention today.

Cast a ballot for either the Republican or Democratic party "was throwing your vote away," Mr. Farris declared.

The greatest difficulty now confronting the farmer are the high rates

FOR PARCEL POST TO FOREIGN TRADE

Overseas Trading Company Head Urges Development of Export Interests

LONDON, June 6.—That the United States parcel post and mail services should be intensively developed in the interests of American exports overseas was urged here today by C. M. Wayne, vice president Overseas Trading Company, of Chicago, Ill., before the eleventh National Foreign Trade convention.

Mr. Wayne declared that by the application of the same parcel post service to foreign trade that has proven so successful for America in business in its domestic trade, American export sales would be immeasurably improved, and that the United States business men would be put on an even basis with foreign countries which now have a highly developed overseas parcel post and mail service. He said that the work of the advisory committee on foreign mail, established in February, 1919, a committee of export organizations cooperating with the Post Office department, had already resulted in great improvements and that in 1923, 30,000,000 pounds of American goods had been sold and shipped through the parcel post service.

Mr. Wayne pointed out that the domestic postal service of the United States far exceeds in volume and efficiency that of any other country, and that all that is necessary is to extend this volume and efficiency overseas.

A Program of Progress in any community cannot succeed unless it commences at the foundation. The foundation of any city's growth and prosperity is adequate housing—sufficient homes to take care of growth in population. This cannot be accomplished unless home-financing funds are easily obtained. The PEOPLES BUILDING & LOAN ASSOCIATION devotes every dollar of its assets to this one purpose. In communities where the saver deposits his money with the building and loan associations, home financing is made easy and more houses are built. New industries are anxious to locate in such communities.

A SONG OF EARTH
By William Foster
Earth, our insult, light
So gently at ease
Old bricks must look contently
Upon young poplar trees.

And shade and plough go gently
About Rome's foot, where grass
Smiles never so intently
As when brick-masons pass.

But yet the briefest shadow
Of cloud she feels, to thrill
With laughter in the meadow
And fear behind the hill.

Bennett-Johnson
Wedding Yesterday

The marriage of Miss Myra Johnson of Pineville and Mr. Neale Bennett, Jr., of this city was solemnized at noon yesterday at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rice Johnson, in Pineville. The house was beautifully decorated in ferns and daisies throughout. The ceremony was performed in front of the mantel where an improvised altar was formed under a white latticed archway covered with ferns and daisies. The mantel and fireplace were banked with ferns and daisies and tall white cathedral candles stood on the mantel. A large wedding bell of daisies hung from the ceiling over the altar. Just before the ceremony Mrs. R. P. Caton of Pineville, accompanied by Miss Buck of Barboursville, sang "Because," which was followed by Mendelssohn's Wedding March as a procession. The bride's party entered through an aisle of white standards decorated with bows of white tulle and with daisies, which extended from the stairway to the altar.

First came the two little flower girls, Harryann Howard and Anne Lynn Estes, dressed in white taffeta frills and carrying white baskets filled with daisies. They were followed by the maid of honor, Miss Florence Hagland Samuel, the bride's cousin. She wore a beautiful dress of peach georgette and lace and carried a large bouquet of ophelia roses and blue delphinium. The lovely bride entered on the arm of her father. She wore an exquisite dress of white satin and lace and a bandeau of tulle held in place by orange blossoms. Her bouquet was bride's roses and lilies of the valley with white tulle cash. This party was met at the altar by the minister, the Rev. J. L. Alderson of Ravenscroft, who preceded the bridegroom and his best man, his father, Neale Bennett, Sr., of Richmond. The impressive Episcopal ring ceremony was used in uniting the two in marriage. Miss Mary McDermott of Barboursville played "Because" softly on the violin during the ceremony.

Following the ceremony the wedding cake was cut by the young friends of the two. It was a large white cake, decorated with bows of spun candy and orange blossoms and containing the symbolic emblem common to wedding cakes. After this an elaborate wedding breakfast was served the families and wedding party. Then the newly married couple left on a honeymoon motor trip to North Carolina, part of which time will be spent at Grove Park Inn, Asheville. The bride wore a handsome sport suit of brown, with brown hat and accessories to match.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Neale Bennett, Jr., are well-known and very popular in Middlesboro. The bride is the lovely and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rice Johnson of Pineville. She was educated at Ward-Belmont College, Nashville, and at the Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neale Bennett of Richmond, has been in business here several years. He is connected with the Log Mountain Coal Company. Mr. Bennett was educated at the University of Seattle.

They will be at home in Pineville after their return from the honeymoon trip.

HOME COMING TO BE BIGGEST EVENT

Louisville Plans For Greatest Crowds Ever Assembled There In Her History.

LOUISVILLE, June 6.—Expected generally to be the biggest single event in the history of Louisville, in point of numbers attending, is the Kentucky Home Coming Week, June 10, to 22, Harry G. Evans, secretary and managing director, of the Louisville Convention and Publicity League, commented today.

The league is setting up preparations for operation of a rooming bureau, through which its directors hope to list several thousand rooms in private homes where guests may stay at nominal rates. Hotels of the city have promised to adhere to their normal commercial rates and restaurants have agreed to make no advance in food charges, he said.

"The rooming bureau operated by the League for the Derby season listed 1,901 rooms," Mr. Evans said, "of which 1,440 were used to accommodate 2,331 persons for an average of two nights each."

More conventions were held during May this year than ever before, due to the increased hotel facilities of Louisville, Mr. Evans jubilantly remarked.

"Eighteen conventions were held, exclusive of the Spring Race Meeting, and the Kentucky Horse Show with an estimated attendance in excess of 10,000." With these two events included Louisville entertained during May probably 50,000 strangers.

Conventions listed here this month follow:

International Circulation Managers Association, in session now;

Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, Kentucky and Indiana districts, June 7.

Regional Institute, Family Case Work, June 2-7.

Medical Alumni Reunion, University of Louisville, School of Medicine, June 2-7.

Southern Golf Association Tournament, Louisville Country Club, June 9.

Cities Near New York Arouse Interest of Convention Guests

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 5.—Although New York City is the designated host for thousands of persons who will come here for the Democratic national convention, directors of arrangements have discovered that almost every city, town and hamlet throughout this sector of the Atlantic seaboard is going to share the honor of entertaining the visitors.

It appears that the man-made wonders of this metropolis, its temples of finance and art, its skyline and its slums, are not the only attraction that is luring people from the great open spaces to the convention. For many of the queries concern the scenic splendors of this and nearby states, the historical spots to be found within a few hours' or a day's journey, the opportunities for ocean and river excursions, for trips to the noted summer resorts nearby, and to such easily accessible points of historical interest as Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington and scores of places in between.

Railroad and steamship companies, automobile clubs, historical societies and individuals have joined toward making it easy for those who wish to venture away from the convention seat. Extra service on trains and boats is being arranged. Excursion rates are being drawn up. Pamphlets describing the historic and traditional spots of interest are being broadcast. Historical societies are preparing to hold open-house for convention visitors.

At the suggestion of Governor Smith, outing clubs have planned auto tours up the Hudson, and through the Adirondacks and the Catskills of Washington Irving's Rip Van Winkle. The Lake Placid Club has joined this venture. The Tourists' Bureau of Montreal will seek to attract visitors to the beauties of the St. Lawrence and old Canada.

New York City, not to be outdone by outsiders, is making extensive arrangements to show off its natural as well as its artificial splendors. Many of the great private estates which line the Hudson and dot Long Island will be thrown open to parties of convention visitors as an auxiliary to the acres of public parks, botanical and zoological gardens and beaches that always are open.

At least one group of state delegates will have an ocean trip on a private yacht, a craft of speed and beauty that has dipped its prow in all the seven seas. The yacht is owned by a native of that particular state, a farmer's son who came to the metropolis and made good.

Another course, "Experimental Cookery," a laboratory course which involves the various methods of preparation and cooking of foods; a study of the scientific principles underlying these methods; problems of teaching involved, is offered.

Still another course "House Planning and Decoration" is heralded as a "study of the treatment of site, design arrangement and interior decoration of modern house; a lecture course."

FOR FOREIGN TRADE STUDENT EXCHANGE

Suggested As Most Practical Way to Get Contact With U. S. Business Men.

BOSTON, June 5.—The creation of a foreign trade students exchange was the proposal today of Henry Howard, of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, before the National Trade Convention, as the most practical manner of bringing the university foreign trade student and the business men of the United States together in solving the problem of how to stabilize the foreign trade career for young Americans.

Mr. Howard said that it seemed to him that if such a students exchange were established by the Educational Committee of the National Foreign Trade Council, in New York, this would solve in some measure present difficulties.

Mr. Howard's proposal came at the end of the session which was presided over by Dean W. R. Gray, of the Amos Tuck School of Administration and Finance, Dartmouth College.

Mr. Howard's subject was: "What Business Men Think About the Foreign Trade Career," and his proposal was the conclusion of a lengthy address in which he submitted the opinions of a wide range of business men. He said that to date many business men had taken a rather patronizing point of view toward the foreign trade student, whereas many distinct advantages could be derived from the use of such men in American foreign trade.

He said, for one thing, that the enthusiasm of youth was needed to prevent hardening of the arteries in certain offices. He said that corporations and firms should look on such men in the same light that they have come to look on engineering men and other technical students whom they take after graduation.

Mr. Howard continued: "It seems to me that in general the proper training for the manufacturer to give to a student graduate from a foreign trade course is, first to put him into the works in order to give him a practical knowledge of the articles which are manufactured and which he will have to sell. Second, put him into the domestic sales department to give him training in salesmanship. Third, transfer him into the foreign trade department and let him go as far as he can."

Mr. Howard said, however, that the colleges must train the men. "I do not believe graduates can be used to any advantage by many of our industries unless men are grounded in technical fundamentals."

Mr. Howard expressed the opinion that it might take several generations before American youth came to give the same serious consideration to such careers as British youth, but that since the year 1911 there had been a tonishing progress in the United States in thinking along international lines.

ALWAYS EMPLOY BEST TEACHERS

Adviser of Rhoads Training Boards Not to Abuse New Certification Law

By A. C. C. Press

Frankfort, June 5.—Always employ the best teacher possible for the work in hand. McHenry Rhoads, superintendent of public instruction, today commended the new law of education. He said a statement urging the boards not to ignore the privileges of the new certification law which will go into effect June 20. The act was debated by the sponsors to alleviate the teacher shortage in Kentucky.

The provision in the act intended to relieve the teacher shortage situation in certain sections of the state might be abused, he cautioned.

This provision is the privilege of permitting anyone 18 years of age to take the examination after having completed only the eighth grade of the common school course, he explained. It is true the examination average must be high in order to secure a certificate of this type.

County boards of education should not employ eighth grade graduates until after all available teachers of higher qualifications have been utilized, he suggested.

"I most earnestly recommend to boards of education that they exercise the privilege of employing an eighth grade graduate with great caution," was his statement. "If they find it necessary to employ teachers of this grade of scholarship in order to have a teacher in every school in the county, they should employ those of mature years and experience first, and employ the untrained only when conditions in their community absolutely demand it."

"If this privilege extended to county boards of education is carefully guarded and intelligently used, it ought not to prove disadvantageous to the school work."

It was intended to relieve the teacher shortage, apparently existing in some sections of the state.

To the county superintendents, he concluded.

"I am, therefore, calling your attention to the necessity of guarding this privilege carefully in the interests of the children of the state."

"Always employ the best teachers possible for the work in hand."

SHRINERS HELPING CRIPPLED CHILDREN

Fifth Hospital for Babies Is Dedicated Recently In St. Louis

By A. C. C. Press

St. Louis, June 5.—Another Temple of Babies Smiles, the fifth in the chain of Shriners' hospitals for crippled children ultimately to stretch from coast to coast, was dedicated here last week with an imposing parade of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine including bands and uniformed patrols from a hundred temples throughout the country.

The dedication ceremonies preceded the golden jubilee convention of the Mystic Shrine which opened in Kansas City, June 3. Thousands of Shriners journeying to the convention routed their special trains to attend the St. Louis ceremonies.

The hospitals were authorized by the imperial council four years ago and already five are in operation, covering club feet, straightening crooked spines and sending hundreds of boys and girls back home, bright and strong.

The four other hospitals are at St. Joseph, La., San Francisco, Portland, Ore., and the City of Minneapolis and St. Paul. In addition there is the mobile unit which works in the Hawaiian island which has given treatment to more than 300 children in its headquarters in Honolulu.

Other hospitals are being built in Springfield, Mass. and Montreal, Canada and sites have been purchased for hospitals in Philadelphia and Chicago. The Shrine proposes to build and maintain at least twenty of the institutions, placing one in reach of every crippled child in the country, regardless of race or creed.

The only restrictions on admittance are that the child must suffer from some ailment coming under the head of orthopedic surgery, the case must offer reasonable hope for cure and the parents must be financially unable to meet the costs of treatment in a non-charitable institution.

Each of the 601,000 Shriners is assessed $2 a year toward the hospital fund.

CHILDREN CONTRACT DISEASE OF CATTLE

Foot and Mouth Malady Not Fatal to Human Beings, Eminent Authority Declares

In view of the epizootic of foot and mouth disease in cattle in parts of California at the present time and the interference with travel and with the shipment of certain food stuffs, including milk, as the result of the prevalence of this disease, Acting Surgeon General White of the U. S. Public Health Service was asked to discuss foot and mouth disease from the viewpoint of its possible danger to human beings.

The disease, Dr. White states, "is an acute, highly contagious malady affecting chiefly cloven-hoofed animals, such as cattle and sheep. Animals suffering from foot and mouth disease have fever, followed by an eruption consisting of small blister-like sores, occurring chiefly on the mucous membrane of the mouth and on the skin at the cleft of the hoof and less frequently on the udders and other portions of the skin. There is usually prolonged ill health and much wasting of the tissues."

The germ which causes this disease has not been identified, but it is known that it occurs particularly in the exudate from the blister-like sores, in the saliva, and in the milk of Adult human beings are not very apt to contract the disease, but it is known to run among children.

The question has been raised as to whether the disease in children known as "impetigo contagiosa" may not be identical with foot and mouth disease in animals, but no one is yet able to answer this question.

HEAD OF ROAD BOARD ANSWERS BOND CRITICS

Proves Need of 75 Million Dollar Issue to State.

SIX QUESTIONS

Montgomery Replies to Six Questions Submitted to him by the Kentucky Good Roads Association, Chairman W. C. Montgomery, of the State Highway Commission, completely disposes of the various misleading and fallacious claims and assertions made by the opponents of the $75,000,000 bond issue which addresses their criticism particularly for the road building plan. For the past five weeks, or ever since Mr. Montgomery said he believed the Highway department would have some $3,000,000 annual revenue, the bond issue has been the subject of persistent interference and insinuation have twisted this statement so as to make it appear that this amount would be all the money necessary and that, therefore, no need existed for bonds to build roads.

In his statement just received, Chairman Montgomery makes it clear that maintenance and reconstruction will materially reduce available road revenue; that while county contributions, through county bond issue and otherwise, will exceed $2,000,000 during the next two years, these contributions are a falling and disappearing source of revenue; that a much larger mileage can be built with bond issue than without it; that this excess over the present plan of building in the five year period will be about 1,500 miles; that road revenues will increase in proportion to the mileage of roads in use and that the saving on automobiles and trucks will go far toward paying the gasoline and automobile license tax and will more than offset the interest charge.

Answers Questions
The questions and answers are as follows:
Q.—In an estimate recently given by you to the public press of the income of the Highway Department, you were reported as having stated that it would total more than $18,000,000 during the years of 1924 and 1925. Opponents of the bond issue have claimed that as this is sufficient funds with which to construct the highway system within a reasonable length of time, there is no need for the bond issue. What part of this estimated $18,000,000 or more will it be necessary to use for maintenance of roads under state control during that time?
A.—Maintenance will probably run about $700 to $800 per mile or from $1,000,000 to $1,500,000 per annum for the next two years. This will no doubt increase as the roads are used more. The Highway Department will spend much more than this amount for maintenance during the next two years but much of it will really be in the nature of reconstruction.

(Since the above answer was written, Mr. Montgomery has informed the Kentucky Good Roads Association that the Highway Department would set apart this year $2,500,000 for maintenance and reconstruction purposes.)
Money From Counties
Q.—What part of the estimated $18,000,000 consists of funds which will be received from the sale of county bonds?
A.—Contributions from counties and individuals will probably exceed $1,000,000 per annum for the next two years. These contributions are included in the estimated income of about $9,000,000 per year.
Q.—Does the Highway Department will continue indefinitely to issue bonds for road purposes or do you consider this a failing source of income which will soon be practically exhausted?
A.—It is expected there will be a falling off in contributions from counties and individuals as soon as the present bond issue funds are exhausted.

Q.—From your investigation of the work of the Highway Department and experience therein so far, do you believe that new mileage can be added as rapidly without a bond issue as with one?
A.—If the bond issue carries the amount available for construction will be largely increased, during the next five or six years while the proceeds of the bonds are being spent. Of course, much larger mileage can be added to the system while the bond issue is being used than is possible without it.

Work Will Be Expedited.
Q.—If you think it can be done more rapidly with a bond issue, how much longer in your opinion will it take to build the same amount of mileage without a bond issue than with one?
A.—During the first five years while the bond money is being spent, my estimate is there could be 1,500

CHANGE FEES FOR LICENSING TRUCKS

Attention of All County Clerks Called By the Head of Auto Department.

By Associated Press.
FRANKFORT, Ky., June 6.—Attention of all county clerks to the act of the 1924 General Assembly, changing fees for licensing trucks of various capacities, was called by C. O. Gray, assistant state tax commissioner, head of the automobile department today.

Under the present law all the truck licenses are credited to the state road fund, he commented. All truck licenses collected on and after June 18th with the act takes effect, he declared in his statement, are credited to a special fund; "only one-half of which is paid into the state road fund and the other one-half to be distributed equally among the 120 counties of the state."

"Therefore," he informed the clerks, "it is absolutely necessary for this office to keep separate the funds collected from truck license up to and including June 17th and thereafter, to keep these fees in a separate fund, so that your county will receive one two hundred fortieths (1-240) of all the truck fees collected in the state."

Each county is directly affected by the act, he added:
"Under the provisions of this law, your county will receive, during the next year more than $2,500,000 out of these fees. Your county will receive as much as Jefferson county. Therefore, you should be diligent with your county officers in seeing that as large amount of truck fees is collected as possible as your county will be the direct beneficiary thereof."

"Under this provision of the law you will further observe that you receive a fee of 50 cents for licensing each truck instead of 30 cents as heretofore, and your fee of 50 cents must be deducted out of the license paid for each truck licensed instead of collecting the 50 cents from the owner of the truck."

"In making your reports on these truck licenses issued on and after June 15th you should charge yourself in your report with the full amount charged and collected from the owner for each truck license, less 50 cents, and retain your fee of 50 cents for each license and do not remit it to this office."

At Wembley, England, old-fashioned craftsmen, to whom modern building methods are still a mystery, are creating a home which will withstand the ravages of 60 years.

more miles of road built than without the bond issue. After this time the amount of construction would depend entirely on the surplus revenue after providing for the interest on the bonds, sinking fund and maintenance of the roads. I believe the revenues would increase in proportion to the mileage of the road in use.

Q.—In event the bond issue plan is adopted, do you believe that the saving to the users of the state roads thus built will be sufficient to justify the interest upon the proposed road bonds?
A.—I believe the wear and tear on automobiles and trucks alone would go far toward paying the gasoline and automobile tax and would more than offset the interest charge.

TELL VETS HOW TO APPLY FOR COMPENSATION

More Than 15,000,000 Applications To Be Distributed.

UNDERSTOOD NOW

Believes Inquiries Will Be Few — Work of Checking and Certifying to Take Most Time.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, June 6.—Application forms on which World War veterans are to apply for adjusted compensation were made public today by Major General Davis, adjutant general of the army and in personal charge of the war department special unit created to handle the bonus and forward approved applications to the Veterans' Bureau for payment or the issue of insurance certificates.

"More than 15,000,000 copies of the applications have been printed and are in process of distribution over the country, to be made available simultaneously through government and other agencies."

In an accompanying statement, General Davis said he believed the bonus situation was now well enough understood to prevent the flooding of the War Department with inquiries from veterans, thus blocking the actual work of checking and certifying applications. It was again emphasized that claimants have nothing to do but to fill out the application forms to the best of their ability, and forward them to the War Department where information which the veterans cannot furnish from recollection will be supplied from the files. Actual distribution of blanks to claimants is expected to begin about June 30, General Davis added.

"It will be noted that an oath is required only in case the applicant is a dependent," the statement said. "No oath is required where the veteran makes his own application. Two witnesses, however, are necessary to the veteran's signature."

"The same blank covers the case no matter whether the veteran served in the army, navy, marine corps, or coast guard, and likewise it may be used either by the veteran or the dependent of a deceased veteran."

"An unusual feature of the blank is the fact that it carries a place for finger prints. This was added as a matter of easy identification and to protect and assist veterans in identifying themselves in the future without the necessity of having comrades who served with them testifying as to their identity."

General Davis suggested that newspapers could assist the veterans by permitting applicants to use the linked printers rollers at newspaper and publishing plants to make the finger imprints on application blanks.

Where a veteran has lost or mislaid his discharge certificate, General Davis pointed out, he is permitted to fill out the blank from memory as to the dates of service required, "or to the best of his knowledge and belief." "It will therefore be unnecessary," the statement continued, "to write the War or Navy Departments for duplicate certificate or certificate in lieu of lost or destroyed discharge certificate."

The blanks are four page affairs accompanied by a printed instruction sheet which gives in detail what information is desired. That includes the full name of the veteran, his serial or service number, date of birth, date of original entry into the service, whether in army, navy, marine corps or coast guard, rank, and date of separation from the service. Spaces are provided to record organizations with or vessels on which applicants served, with the dates of such service, and for overseas men, entries as to dates of sailing for France and return, together with port of departure and of return.

The blank includes spaces to be filled in by those who served as commissioned or warrant officers. It also has spaces for those granted farm or industrial furloughs, for those who were conscientious objectors, which includes a statement as to whether they did or did not refuse to wear the uniform.

One feature of the blanks is the printed text of the penalty clause of the bonus act against false or fraudulent statements in applications. The penalty fixed by Congress is a fine of not more than $1,000 or imprisonment for not more than five years or both.

General Davis cautioned newspaper owners that it would be unnecessary for them to reprint the application blanks as a means of speeding up the work through circulating to veterans blanks prepared at the expense of the newspapers. The government supply of blanks will be about three times the number actually required in order to make sure that they are available to every veteran. If newspapers insist upon reprinting and cir-

Four Sons As Ball Players Was Hope of Meusels' Father

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, June 6.—When Babe Ruth struck out with the bases full in that dramatic eighth inning of the final game of the 1923 world's series at the Polo grounds, he unexpectantly created an opportunity for Bob Meusel, who took advantage of it and produced the hit that sent the floundering Giants on the rocks of defeat.

That hit gave to all Yankee fans and one who must have been neutral during the series the thrill that comes once in a lifetime. The neutral fan was Dad Meusel, the father of Bob and of Emil Meusel, the Giants' outfielder, who had travelled across the continent to see his sons oppose each other in the blue ribbon event of the diamond.

Telling of the entry of the brothers into baseball, Bob who has two other brothers besides Emil, known to the fans as "Irish," said:

"Many folks have asked me where my oldest brother got the nickname, Irish. It was given him in Philadelphia, when he was a member of the Phillies. The bleacherites thought he looked like an Irishman and told him so with much loudness on many occasions. The trick label has stuck to him ever since."

"My father wanted us all to be baseball players. It was the loftiest ambition he had for his offspring. He brought home bats and balls and encouraged us to play. On Sunday after-

HUNT'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—Having failed to entice wary Bill Borah of Boise, Idaho, into the Coolidge camp by offering him the honor of playing "Cautious Cal" in nomination at Cleveland, it is now suggested Borah be brought in bodily, by coercion if necessary, and placed on the ticket as Coolidge's running mate.

"That, it is believed, would turn the trick. No man, it is pointed out, has ever refused the vice-presidential nomination after it had been voted him. And Borah, although in many ways different from the average of senators and politicians, might be expected to run true to tradition if the nomination for vice-president was sawed off into his lap."

This new proposal emphasizes more than ever the desire of the Coolidge backers to tie up the Coolidge candidacy with mid-western and western elements which, while progressively inclined, still have at heart a desire to remain regular, to keep within the G. O. P.

This was pointed out recently in connection with efforts to induce Borah to make the Coolidge nominating speech. By such a speech Borah naturally would have committed himself to the Coolidge cause. And an endorsement by Borah would have been sufficient to line up for the Republican for the Republican candidate thousands of voters who at present regard him as conservative if not actually reactionary.

After hints that he preferred not to do the nominating were disregarded, and pressure continued to be applied, the Idaho progressive put himself out of further consideration for the honor by announcing that he would not be present at Cleveland.

That, he felt, would be conclusive. Also final. If he wasn't there, he couldn't be committed. He'll still be free to exercise independent judgment and leadership.

Woman Tries Suicide After Beating Other

CAWOOD, June 6.—At about 11 a. m. Tuesday, Mrs. Chyka, an Hungarian woman, ran to her house, after fighting with one of her neighbors, in attempting to commit suicide, by sending a bullet through her temple. However, in her excitement she missed her aim, and shot herself through the left jaw. Although the wound is painful, it was not considered serious, and she is doing well at the Harlan hospital.

It seems from reports, that one of circulating, General Davis asks that they see that blanks and envelopes for transmission are identical in every way with the government blanks and suggests that they be submitted for approval to the adjusted compensation branch of the War Department before they are circulated to veterans.

Mrs. Chyka's children were fighting with another child. Mrs. Chyka ran out of her house and was met by the mother of the other child. A few words passed, and then the mothers began to fight and the little which their children had begun. But this battle soon became serious, as Mrs. Chyka was giving her antagonist a terrific beating. Believing that she had caused a severe injury, and had committed a crime, Mrs. Chyka ran to her house and attempted to take her life. Only the heat of excitement caused her to save her own life.

SUMMER RESORT IDEA STRESSED

Claims of Southeastern Kentucky As Vacation Point Presented By Pineville Man.

The following item from the Pineville Sun is of as much interest to Middlesboro as to Pineville people:

The claims of Pineville and Southeastern Kentucky as a summer resort and tourist stop-over point will be stressed by C. R. Ramsey this week at a meeting of one hundred of the leading business and professional men of Cincinnati who are sponsoring the program of progress campaign in the Queen City. Mr. Ramsey leaves this week for Cincinnati.

Efforts of Mr. Ramsey at a meeting of the Dixie Highway Association in Savannah, Ga., last week to have the routing of the Dixie Highway changed so that it would pass through Pineville, Middlesboro and Cumberland Gap instead of by way of Jellico, met with partial success. The directors declared that the routing had been changed on account of certain trouble encountered in Knox county but said that when the road through to Knoxville was in passable condition that the board would hear claims for changing the route.

At the Savannah meeting a commitment to Pineville and the Cumberland Mountain region was paid by J. Stacey Hill, of Cincinnati, who has been prominent in the road work in this state and instrumental in getting Cincinnati to put up $24,000 for the completion of the bad stretches of highway through Knox and Rockcastle counties. Mr. Hill said that Pineville's scenery and accommodations were ideal and that there was no reason why this community should not get a large part of the summer vacationists.

Mr. Hill and Monte Gobel, banker of Cincinnati, have visited Pineville and Southeastern Kentucky on various occasions and both have been warm in their praise of this section of the state. Both have pointed out the advantages of Pineville as a summer resort and indications are that the idea is beginning to take root in this community.

Cincinnati's program of progress calls for the raising of approximately $2,000,000 for trade expansion, increased transportation facilities and promotion and publicity. Cincinnati is making a special effort to establish stronger trade relations with Southeastern Kentucky and Pineville is in line for many of these advantages, Mr. Ramsey said.

The College of Cardinals, when complete, is made up of 70 members.

NEW DEPARTMENTS FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Probably Commercial Course and Manual Training Will Be Added.

Plans for the enlargement of the city high school curriculum by the addition of new departments are being made by the board of education. A commercial department will, in all probability, be added, also a manual training department.

Budget for the coming scholastic year has already been made by the board and submitted to the city commission. As the bill passed during the last session of the legislature makes it possible to use any amount of taxation up to $1.50 per hundred for school purposes, the deficit which resulted last year and was added to the budget will be cared for.

Dr. Brosheer, chairman of the city educational board, says that perhaps about $1.30 per hundred will be needed this year to meet the budget already outlined.

The meeting of the board which was planned for last night was postponed on account of the absence of Supt. J. W. Bradner who is in Richmond this week. The meetings during the summer months will not be of great importance as the paying of the bills and other routine business will be about all the matters that will come before the body.

DELEGATES OF SAN JUAN CONTESTED

Split in Porto Rican Republican Party Extends to Cleveland, Ohio.

Associated Press.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, June 6.—One result of the decision of the Unionist and Republican parties to merge under the name of the Porto Rican Alliance, effected recently at convention of the two parties held at Mayaguez and San German, will be that contesting delegates will be sent to the Republican national convention at Cleveland.

The merger brought about an expected split in the Republican party, which is affiliated with the national organization, the vote being 135 for entering the alliance and 55 against. Robert H. Todd, Republican national opponent to the merger and with others today is actively at work on the development of a Pure Republican party. The Pure Republicans have named Todd and former Governor E. Large Coal Properties in Indiana To Be Combined Under One Management.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., June 6.—Reports in the financial district of New York, that a movement had been started to consolidate one fourth of the coal mines in Indiana under a common management, were confirmed yesterday, although it was said details of the merger had not been completed.

The purpose, it was explained, is to improve production facilities and cut down overhead charges.

Ed Logsdon, President of the Knox Consolidated Coal Company, which is a merger of a number of large mining companies completed two years ago, in confirming the report, said he knew "a great deal about the plan," but is not in a position to make his knowledge public.

J. C. Kolsen, of Terre Haute, Ind., member of the Executive Committee of the Indiana Bituminous Coal Operators' Association, said the merger plan is only in its formative stage, and asserted it is too soon to determine whether the plan will be a success.

Pennsylvania and New Jersey delegates also will come in special trains, according to Senator George W. Pepper and Hamilton F. Keen, representative of Pennsylvania and New Jersey.
